Woman Strike-Breaker Boss Breaks In On Wire Trouble

Grace M. Lacey, the famous "Jim Farley" who will try to break telegraphers' strike.

FEMALE STRIKEBREAKER HAS ASSUMED BIG JOB

She Will Furnish Operators to Big Companies During Strike.

SAYS SHE CAN FILL
ALL IMMEDIATE ORDERS

Cleveland, Ohio, August 19.—The feminine "Jim" Farley, a girl who breaks strikes, has broken into the telegraph strike.

Grace M. Lacey, a college graduate and former teacher, is the young woman who has tackled the big job, and she is making Cleveland her headquarters. Only a few weeks ago she wound up a contract to supply several hundred men to end a machinists' strike, and now she is preparing to assist the Western Union and Postal out of their troubles.

Miss Lacey makes no secret of it that her business is to organize strike breakers.

"In handling this class of men, who are notoriously desperate and disloyal," said Miss Lacey, "I try to control them in the same way as I did my pupils at school—by mere force of will power—and I find that it is very successful."

"Of course, I have more trouble with the native born American than with his foreign born brother. He is inclined to be independent and to try working a bluff."

"He claims generally that he is an expert in almost every trade and wants to sign a contract at a high salary figure."

"It is then that I make him show his hand and after that he becomes quite docile and manageable."

"I find my work intensely absorbing," continued Miss Lacey, "for it gives me a chance to study life in the raw and to contrast it with the veneered article I met at college."

"I like the work better than teaching, for the reason that here nearly every man I meet means a personal combat of wills, while at school there were only three or four hard fights each year and they were tame in comparison."

GIRLS' DEATH CAUSES YOUNG MAN'S SUICIDE

Fredericksburg, Va., August 19.—Leonard Powell, son of James Powell, residing near Salem church, in Spotsylvania county, committed suicide last night by shooting himself in the head with a .22 caliber revolver.

He was left at home with some young children while his parents attended a year-by church. Soon after their departure he went to the barn, some distance from the house, where he was found several hours later by his father, who, upon returning home, missed him and started a search.

When found he was unconscious. A physician from this city was summoned, but could do nothing for him. He died about daylight this morning.

In his pocket was found a note to his parents, in which he stated that he was tired of living, and he could not stand his troubles any longer.

It is said that since the death of a young woman friend, about a year ago, he had been very despondent. He was about 23 years old, and is survived by his parents and several sisters and brothers.

TAFT IS OFF TO OPEN FIRST ISLAND ASSEMBLY

Secretary Makes First Speech of Tour at Columbus, Ohio.

WILL VISIT NUMBER OF EASTERN ROYALTIES

Columbus, Ohio, August 19.—Secretary W. H. Taft arrived here today from Washington on his tour of the world. He will deliver a speech tonight before the Buckeye Republican club.

When Christmas day comes, Secretary Taft expects to be telling his friends all about his trip around the world. He hopes that the globe trot upon which he has just started will be over in time for him to eat his turkey and plum pudding at home.

It is going to be a great trip. It will start in a whirl of politics, because the war secretary candidate for president will make several speeches on the way to his steamer at Erie.

Sailing out of the Golden Gate, Taft will touch at Hawaii. He will land in Japan to get the sea roll out of his legs and it is said that he will make an official call on the mikado.

The principal object of his trip, however, is to open the first Philippine representative assembly about November 1. Leaving Manila on November 4 he will sail for Vladivostok and arriving there on November 11, he will start for the accident on the great Siberian railroad. He will be on the cars nearly two weeks before arriving at St. Petersburg.

At St. Petersburg the American war secretary will have an audience with the czar, who will probably not be able to tell Taft how to be popular with the people.

The secretary's itinerary takes him from St. Petersburg to Berlin, to London and then back to New York, but it is said that if there is no urgency for his speed return to the United States he will take in other European capitals.

ALEXANDER JESTER DIED AT OKLAHOMA

Tecumseh, Okla., August 19.—Alexander Jester, who a few months ago took up a claim in eastern New Mexico intending to make his permanent home there, died today at the home of his sister near here. He came here recently to visit his sister and was taken ill just before he intended to return to New Mexico.

Jester is the man who was kidnapped from Shawnee, Okla., a few years ago by John W. Gates, the millionaire, who took his prisoner by special train to Missouri and had him tried there for the murder of Gates' younger brother. Jester was acquitted of the charge.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN
STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.
St. Louis, Mo., August 19.—Mrs. John McKinnon, wife of an employee of the Glencoe Lime company in St. Louis county, was almost instantly killed by lightning which struck her while she was sweeping the floor of her home today. The bolt entered an open window, and did not damage anything in the house. About a year ago her oldest son was killed while at work in the lime kilns at Glencoe by being struck by a falling rock.

AMAZING STATE OF AFFAIRS IS SHOWN

Official Admits That He Paid for No Stock, Attended No Meeting, Saw No Books and Is Ignorant of Affairs.

Denver, Colo., August 19.—With considerable speed the defense in the Lost Bullion Spanish mines case is getting its testimony in. R. C. Hunt, first president of the Lost Bullion company, was "at the bat" for several hours telling a tale of innocence as counsel for the defense drew it out and undergoing a rather severe grilling at the hands of Assistant Attorney General Bone.

"I never invested one cent in the property, was never connected before with any mining industry, and do not know if there was one dollar in actual cash invested in the claim," said he. "It is true I allowed my name to appear as president of the corporation, but never attended any of the meetings. If my signature appeared on the minutes of the meeting as being present, it is false."

"Is it not curious," he was asked, "that as president of the company, you did not attend these meetings?"

Had Other Business.

He replied that his time was occupied by other matters and that he trusted the others to attend to the business. "I never looked at the books and did not know what the company was doing," he said.

"Did you ever investigate, or cause to be investigated for your own personal interests, the Lost Claim?"

"No, sir; I did not. I took the word of the mining engineer and the directors. I resigned from the office on January 2, 1907."

"How many shares of the capital stock did you own?"

"About 15,000. These I offered to return to the company upon my resignation. I did not think I had earned them."

But He Kept His Stock.

After a few more questions the witness stated that when he learned that the company had passed resolutions giving him a vote of thanks for his valuable services he decided to keep the shares, and that they could now be purchased for less than one dollar per share, the par value, and that had not the government taken up the investigation he would have invested several thousand dollars in the company. The witness further stated that he did not know where the records of the company were kept and does not know at this time where they are. When asked if the president of the mine, would object to the records being shown, he replied that he did not know.

"Know what? Whether you would or would not?"

"Either one," was the reply.

Official in Name Only.

It would seem from Dr. Hunt's testimony that he never had exactly understood his relations to the other members of the company. He did realize that when he and W. B. Worson incorporated the company and capitalized it at $10,000,000 he was elected president, but he said he never attended any of the meetings and knew nothing whatever about the management of the company, though his name was signed to the minutes regularly and that the same name always appeared prominently in all the documents of the company at the time he was president.

Under cross examination, Dr. Hunt expressed his abiding faith in the Lost Bullion property and said that when brighter days should come and the troubles of the officials were at an end, he expected to again invest in the mine, or cave.

Wrote Recommendations.

George P. Ponda, druggist, and vice president of the First National bank at Boulder, testified that he purchased 500 shares of stock in the company from Wilson, who he added is a warm friend of his. He said he went to Silver City with Wilson and that they went together to inspect the Lost Bullion property. He was much pleased with the property and he wrote letters of endorsement praising the mine and the management in the highest terms.

On cross examination he admitted that the contents of the letters of endorsement were dictated by Wilson.

W. B. Cameron, vice president of the Lost Bullion company and one of the defendants, testified to the same effect as did Ponda, relative to the great value of the ore he found in the cave, or mine.

Martinsburg, W. Va., August 19.—During a fit of temporary insanity induced by fear of her husband, Mrs. Mary E. Jones, of this city, early this morning sent a bullet crashing into her forehead at the home of her sister, Mrs. George White, and died instantly.

Mrs. Jones arrived from Ridgway, Berkeley county, Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of appearing at the trial of her husband, Robert Jones, who had been arrested on a charge of cruelty to his wife. The case came up in Justice Felker's court this morning. The couple had been living unhappily together for some time, and it is claimed that the husband treated the woman with extreme cruelty.

A short time ago she took refuge with her parents at Ridgway. While there her two-year-old child died and was buried yesterday. The funeral being attended by a disgraceful scene caused by the intoxication of the father.

Gives Wife Three Days.

Mrs. Jones based her fears on an assertion Jones made to her brother-in-law, White, Saturday evening, when he said: "Tomorrow I am going to buy my wife, and in three days from then Mary will be dead. It won't be more than ten days, anyway."

After the tragedy this morning Justice Felker issued a warrant for the arrest of Jones. He was sent to jail, his little son, Perry, five years old, accompanying him.

He Will Be Prosecuted.

The court was unaware of the threats on Mrs. Jones' life or Jones' would have been jailed probably soon enough to have preserved her reason and life. A vigorous attempt will be made to prosecute him for the death of the burial of his child.

There is considerable feeling in this vicinity against the prisoner. The fact that he insisted on his five-year-old son accompanying him to prison is looked upon as a mark of his inability to care for the child and this afternoon the boy was taken from the cell and turned over to a benevolent society which will find him a home.

MINER'S HEADLESS BODY FOUND AT FOOT OF SHAFT

Identity of Mangled Remains
Is Puzzling Arizona
Officials.

Bisbee, Ariz., August 19.—Officials of this county are making an earnest effort to discover the identity of a miner who fell from the top of the Oliver shaft to the foot of the 1,000-foot level Saturday, and whose head was mangled so badly that identification by that means is impossible. Only the chin and part of the back of his head remain, the rest having been torn off in his descent down the shaft.

Miners on the surface heard a scream as he fell and when they searched the mine, discovered a body so mangled as to resemble that of a human being.

Every miner who came from the shaft has been scrutinized but thus far none have been reported missing and it is a mystery as to who the dead man may be. Some of the miners believe he is a Slavonian who recently came to work.

WOMAN AND CHILD ARE ASSASSINATED

Homer, La., August 19.—Mrs. Minnie Bond and her little baby boy were assassinated last night in the home of her father at Millerton.

She and the baby had just retired, and the assassin stuck a double-barreled shotgun through the window and fired two charges of buckshot into the sleeping forms.

Mrs. Bond was killed, but the baby lived until this morning. There is no clue, and no known motive for the crime.

WORLD WIDE STRIKE OF TELEGRAPHERS IS IMMINENT

AGGRESSIVE TACTICS WILL BE PURSUED

President Small Declares That There Will Be Plenty of Money to Rush Strike Even If It Continues For Months.

Chicago, Ill., August 19.—A world-wide telegraphers' strike is imminent. It has not been generally known, but it developed today that the officers of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America have been carrying on negotiations for more than a year with the Telegraph Clerks' association of England with a view of bringing about a working alliance between the English and American telegraphers. They have so far succeeded that sympathetic action in the present strike is assured. Any attempt to man the American cable stations at Canso, Nova Scotia, and Heart's Content, Nova Scotia, will result in the refusal of English operators to handle cablegrams from America.

Should the British end of the transatlantic cable be manned by non-union men, the action would be sure to precipitate a general strike of all telegraphers in England.

That the strike may extend to the European continent and spread over the entire world seems probable. A. Simmonds, editor of the Chicago Daily Socialist, the American National Labor union organ, and delegate to the International Socialist convention at Stuttgart, Germany, is authorized to present before the convention, which is practically one of labor organizations, the question of establishing a defensive and offensive alliance between the telegraphers of America, Europe, Australia and the Orient.

President S. J. Small of the Commercial Telegraphers of America said: "We are assured of the co-operation of every Socialist operator of Europe. They consist of 90 per cent of the telegraphers of the continent and three-fourths of the operators of the British colonies. When non-union men begin to send cablegrams from America a walkout from English and European offices is inevitable."

Already we have 'bottled up' the Outlook, cutting off San Francisco. If this were not sufficient we have assurances from the Socialist operators of Japan that during the strike they will refuse all messages from America. This strike will demonstrate to the world that labor interests are fully aware to the necessity for united action."

Aggressive Tactics.

Aggressive tactics are declared by President Small of the striking telegraphers. He said that he had no intention of giving up the strike, and he has planned to put them into effect.

Among projects he has outlined are the calling out of every leased wire operator under union contract by noon Monday, the complete telegraphic isolation of North America by calling out cable operators at all points, and a demand for the suspension and active aid of the American Federation of Labor in the present strike.

The national executive board of the strikers is in session to discuss and satisfy the plans of the strike leader.

The attitude of President Small is said to have dispelled hope of intervention under the present law, assume jurisdiction over the telegraph system of the country?

This is a question that has been brought out forcibly by the great strike of keymen.

"Even assuming that the telegraph is an instrument of interstate commerce," said one of the commission-ers, "and that it was the intention of congress to include it under the regulatory authority conferred in the Hepburn act, what of it? It would not help in this situation. The Hepburn act does not give the commission any power to take possession of an instrument of interstate commerce and operate it, even if it becomes inoperative by strike or otherwise."

"The commission would have, at most, no more than power to regulate charges on telegrams sent, and to make rules in regard to the kind of service to be rendered by the public. The commission has no authority to regulate wages of railway employees or to adjust wage disputes between common carriers and their employees. No more would it in case of the telegraph companies."

"I do not see how the commission could, in any event, do more than hold an investigation into the merits of the dispute and to make public a report on it. That might or might not do good. Just at present, however, there is no call for action by the commission of any sort."

SMALL BOY SAVES HIS FATHER'S LIFE

Norfolk, Va., August 19.—Seeing his father, who had been rendered insensible by a negro, late last night, little Joseph White, seven years old, picked up a rifle, struck the negro several blows on the head, put him to flight, and fired two shots of him as he ran.

W. H. White is tollgate keeper at the Campestella Bridge. The trouble with the negro arose over the payment of toll. White attempted to shoot the negro in self defense after the black commenced to club him, but his assailant caught the revolver in one hand and held it as he used the club with the other.

Greenwich, Pa., August 19.—Sheriff Marshall, of Crawford county, lodged and alleged assailant of Emma Whitehead, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Rev. J. M. Whitehead, of Turnersville, Pa., in jail here early today. He was run down by bloodhounds last night in a swamp near Wick. The assault was committed Saturday night.

Since the crime became known, an infuriated mob, which was added to hourly as the news of the assault spread abroad, has been searching for the tramp who committed the deed, and it was only by a small fraction of an hour that the sheriff found him first and was able to extend the protection of the law to him. Sheriff Marshall, as soon as he found the man, took a roundabout course for the jail here, but he met part of the mob which insisted on taking the prisoner, but finally gave in to the sheriff's insistence that he must be legally tried.

The prisoner, while not fully confessing, admits enough to fix his guilt. He has not yet been confronted by his victim.

WANT ALIENISTS TO EXAMINE HER MIND

Concord, N. H., August 19.—At the inquiry into the competency of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, counsel for the "next friends" made a motion that the masters permit, without delay, the examination of Mrs. Eddy by alienists engaged by the plaintiffs, and that this examination be made in court, if Mrs. Eddy was considered capable physically to undergo the strain. If too weak to come to court, the "next friends" insisted that the test of the alienists be made in her home, Pleasant View, and that it be regulated by precisely the same requirements as prevailed in the court session of the masters.

They asked also that attorneys for the plaintiff be allowed to attend this examination if in Pleasant View, instead of just one lawyer, as was the case in the preliminary audience Wednesday. They further requested that Mrs. Eddy's son, George W. Glover, his daughter, Mary, and the adopted son, Dr. Foster Eddy, be given the privilege of attending. They asserted that as they had brought the lawsuit they were entitled to hear all phases of it.

The masters suggested that the alienists be accompanied by the masters and by the attorneys for each side.

The attorneys for the "next friends" at once said that they would approach Dr. Henry H. Steadham and Dr. George T. Tuttle to make the examination. Counsel for the defense asked for delay until next Tuesday before consenting to the arrangements. The hearing was adjourned until Tuesday.

SLAYER OF BOY PLEADS INSANITY

Solomonsville, Ariz., Aug. 19.—Ignacio Puerco, the native who killed a four-year-old boy at San Jose near here a few days ago, without any provocation, is a prisoner at the county jail. He declares that he did not know what he was doing when he fired the fatal shot, and he will plead temporary insanity.

Feeling here is so high against the man that he may be removed to some other county jail until his trial is held.

TWO NEGROES DEAD; WHITE MAN INJURED

Byram Station, Miss., August 19.—Wash Telford and Jesse Robertson, a negro, were slain and Constable Chas. Van Buren seriously wounded in a shooting affray here today.

Van Buren and Telford, in company with Ben Chisholm, special agent of the Illinois Central railroad, were en route to a camp in search of a negro for whom they held a warrant. When within a short distance of the camp the officers stopped for a drink of water at the house of a negro woman.

While seated on her porch, Robertson made his appearance, and, apparently imbued with the suspicion that he was the object of the officers' quest, opened fire with a revolver. The first shot struck Van Buren in the left arm. The negro fired again, the bullet striking Telford near the heart. The officers fired at Robertson, then making an effort to escape. He fell, but, regaining his feet, was shot to death in attempting to crawl through a barbed wire fence.

WORK TRAIN HITS CONEY EXCURSION

New York, August 19.—One man was killed outright, a man and a woman died of their injuries after being taken to the hospital, and four other persons were hurt seriously as the result of a collision this afternoon between a Coney Island and Brooklyn trolley car and a dirt train of the Long Beach railroad, at the grade crossing of the Manhattan Beach line of the Long Island railroad, at Parkville.

The woman was Mrs. Anna Cohen, about fifty years old, of 291 Pulaski street, Brooklyn. The two dead men had not been identified up to a late hour. They were each about twenty-two years old. All the dead and injured received their injuries because they jumped from the trolley car. None of those who remained on the car was hurt.

Accident at Crossing.

The accident occurred at a crossing, where neither the motorman nor the engineer of the dirt train could see each other, and the crossingman made a wrong signal, which sent the two together.

The accident was unavoidable on the part of the trainmen. They managed to keep most of the passengers in their seats, thus preventing more serious consequences.
